How It Works

Dates & Locations That Fit

Choose from our vast selection of topics and specialties by ordering online or over the phone. You provide us with your chosen dates and locations, anywhere in the world at any time. Depending on the type of course, disk's are either shipped to you, provided as downloads, or as online interactive courses. After completing your course, testing is submitted online or through paper forms. Once your tests have been graded, we mail and email your final documentation. We offer continuing education on your terms; where and when you decide!

Documentation & Certification

ASI students will receive receipts, confirmation letters and course material upon purchase. Once your tests have been graded, we will mail and email your documentation that includes your receipt, Certificate of Participation, and Transcripts. Documentation will reflect course title, location, dates, tuition paid and credits earned. As have been processed, students may print all documents from their online account at an added convenience, after final documents any time.

Topics of Interest or Specialty

ASI provides an extensive list of accredited specialty topics for medical and dental professionals. Choose one of our seminars in your specialty or one of our customizable courses to fit your needs. ASI strives to provide the medical and dental fields with the highest quality, convenient, and up-to-date continuing education available.

What is the difference between a full or short course?

Medical Courses

ASI offers both full and short medical courses. Full courses are designed to be taken in 5-10 consecutive days, but can be documented from 1 day to a maximum of 14 consecutive days. Most full courses contain 10 topics of study in a specialty and is accredited for 20 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™ hours. Most short courses consist of 5 topics and are accredited for 10 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™ hours. Short courses can be documented from 1 day to a maximum of 5 consecutive days. Most medical specialties qualify for AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. We have special accreditations available for other organizations such as the AAFP, ACEP, CFPC, RCPSC, AOA, ABIM, ANCC and AANA. Please refer to our Accreditation page for more information: www.americanseminar.com/accreditation-documentation

Dental Courses

ASI offers both full and short dental courses. Full courses are designed to be taken in 5-10 consecutive days, but can be documented from 1 day to a maximum of 14 consecutive days. Short courses can be documented from 1 day to a maximum of 5 consecutive days. Credit hours for dental courses vary per course; see Dental Courses for the exact credit hours assigned. ADA (American Dental Association) and AGD (Academy of General Dentistry) members receive different credit hours than the CBDE (California Board of Dental Examiners) credits. Please refer to our Accreditation page for more information: www.americanseminar.com/accreditation-documentation

Radiology Courses

ASI offers full Radiology courses. Full courses are designed to be taken in 5-10 consecutive days, but can be documented from 1 day to a maximum of 14 consecutive days. Credit hours for Radiology courses vary per course. Please refer to our Accreditation page for more information:

www.americanseminar.com/accreditation-documentation.
