COURSE DESCRIPTION

In our new dental world, the ability to treat most patients “in-house” is more important than ever before. This course will provide step-by-step protocols to “conquer” any type of case and treat with confidence. From exam to treatment planning to case preparation, to temporization, all aspects of case management are included. Many indirect and direct restorative products are discussed as well as up to date cementation techniques. The result is a primer on creating beautiful dentistry built to last.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

After completing this course, the participant will be able to:

1. Learning an examination approach that not only includes teeth and gums but also muscles, joints and AIRWAY!
2. Focusing on the provisional restoration as the MOST important part of the treatment regimen.
3. Occlusion discussed simply and understandably with easy implementation videos.
4. Minimally-invasive dentistry as a rule, not an exception
5. Adapting composite onlay phasing as a means of breaking down cases for any budget
6. 40 great products that are better and/or less expensive than the ones you are using
7. Learning about hybrid, Y3, and Y5 Zirconia and the best cementation technique for each.
8. What to do with your best...and worst employees.
9. Focusing on humanitarian efforts that can change your patient... and yourself.
